Subject: Very Cool! Video about regenerating own body cells!

Hi Jeffrey!

Found an apt, moved my things over today, can move in tomorrow. All went smooth and I will be based now out of [REDACTED], great location!

Performed last night and the night before, never had to dance on such an injury, not fun, but know I will learn a lot from this and hope to be able to then help others. :) I know of 3 other people around me with similar pain, mine seems worse, especially as I jump and leap around on it, but then all the more incentive to figure it out, as I like to leap and jump around! Hee, hee...

I was sent this e-mail today, very interesting video on how science is learning how to get our own bodies to re-grow body parts, the video is in english.

I want to thank you once again for a wonderful trip to Florida, I love working with you and your people and that I have a nice environment to do my yoga in my free time and walk at the sea. Was good to have before these intense couple of days.

Am doing great and look forward to seeing you again!

BIG hug into your day!
