I couldn't take the class because [REDACTED] is either stupid or sneaky enough not to even inform me it was happening. It was her responsibility. I found out at 9.30 that they were starting at 10 (only by calling [REDACTED]). I had already promised [REDACTED] I would take pictures for her book and we had already started. Soon I had to get ready to visit you to be there at 12.15. Two weeks ago you did not suggest I take this class to be helpful to you- especially not making french toast. You said if I wanted to learn to cook some of it for myself, I could. You specifically told me this was not for you.

Of course the girls disagree they didn't do it right..they are like the idol singers. At the end of the class they have never made those dishes so how could they have learned. You made that point to me a hundred times after I took a cooking class I also thought was helpful...before you informed me I was delusional.
