Hi, I just finished the cleansing...it was the weirdest thing I have ever done in my life (and probably the best as well) I feel good so far but I think I will feel even better in a few days..
Funny thing is that I was more scared to go there then I was before my sky diving..
And also the woman who was doing it was really nice but she kept asking me about Jenny...
Thank you very much for sending me there!
Have a beautiful day!!!
