All is well thank you. Was thinking about you just the day before and woke up to your email.

We are in Spain. Waiting for my boyfriends work visa to be processed but have to be out of the UK until it is.

Project finally getting some funding after 2 1/2 years of raising awareness. Thank goodness. Feel as though I have been through a roller coaster in that time. Nearly lost my father-though he is great now. Lost many fiends as they thought I was crazy, had to give up home. But things are beginning to change at last I believe. So strange this life.

I'm afraid no photo's as no internet here and away from home.

How much longer do you have to go? I hope you are okay. I send you my best and hope that you are staying positive despite the situation.
