Subject: The Rockwood Report

I have read 6,147,622 articles over the past few weeks describing what the corporate aircraft market will look like once we are past the our current malaise.

Here's a hint: IT WILL LOOK LIKE IT DID BEFORE THE CURRENT MALAISE.

When I first got into this business in the 1970's I worked for a very smart, very successful man. He would start each day asking us, "WHAT SELLS?"? And he would answer himself saying, "SIZE AND RANGE SELLS"!

This has not changed in over 30 years, and it won't change going forward.

Our market is driven by OPTIMISM, EARNINGS, and PRIDE. Forget any of these at your peril.
