What should Nathan talk about? (See below) I am completely open to creative ideas. Danny originally suggested giving him the assignment to teach astrophysics. (Based on one of my favorite lines, "Anything less than everything means nothing to me," giving him two hours to explain the Universe would be entertaining.)

We are zeroing in on the weekend of July 25th. See Nick Pritzker offer of a cheap hotel.

Suggestions for other speakers?

John: I'd like to attend if possible. I can make it the weekend of July 25/26, the weekend of Aug 1/2, and Aug 24/25.

If we have availability for the weekend you decide, I'd invite the group to stay at our new un-Hyatt, ANDAZ (formerly the Hyatt Riot on Sunset) which has some innovative features which I hope this group in particular might find interesting. <http://www.andaz.com/> for general information, and click on andaz west hollywood for specifics.

We would arrange a favorable rate, great service, and a bonus reception which we would be happy to host.

Thanks for the invitation. I'm honored to be included. nick

Nick, What a hotelier! At this stage of your career, you're still working the reservation desk!!

Hey John: in this economy I'm Chief Cook and Bottle Washer.....

I'd really love to know what this group thinks of our new andaz concept, and the hotel will jump to get a chance to get feedback and suggestions for improvement from such a creative group.....n

Thanks for the invite. I think I can make the 25th but not the 18th.

All weekends in July and August could work for me (after SciFoo) EXCEPT Aug 22-23.

As discussed, I think dividing the time between multiple Masters (the assumption being we are all masters) is a good idea.
