Hey!

Love working with you!!! : )

I am trying to find the best route to taking care of my foot... Another feedback was that it could be heel spurs... I do not have insurance other than what I call "emergency insurance", which means in the hospital and it only covers me in Europe. They are fab, but that is all they cover. Sooo that means I am looking for the most direct route and want to speak to knowledgeable people. Any thoughts, ideas?

And I should go see a good Gynocologist (sp?)...you know many women maybe you know? Didn't have the funds to go for awhile and don't know a good one here or in Europe. (Have a GREAT dentist in Germany!)

I wish you could go Salsa dancing! I found a place that has an instructor tonight, tomorrow and the next...apparently every week...am dying to go!

Sooooo...I see you later?

: )
