

Dear Sir,

I've had the pleasure to meet your friend [REDACTED], last week. Our discussion regarding your expectations and requirements convinced me that my skills fit your needs as personal assistant.

During our interview, we've discussed about my passion for home design, fashion and "le bon goût Français". I'm a very well organized, structured, flexible and perfectionist person. My interest for table art and gastronomy will support you during your receptions in Paris. My relations in Art and home design would be a precious help in my day to day job to guaranty the best service.

I would like to meet you during your next trip in Paris.

Looking forward to hear from you,

Best regards

Bertille.
