

To: Jeevacation[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: William Murphy
Sent: Wed 6/10/2009 3:33:39 PM
Subject: Doug Schoettle

Good Morning Sir,

Darren and Brice had asked that I stop by Doug Schoettle's place earlier this week to assist him with a computer issue. He has an old Dell that no longer starts; rather it beeps three times and does nothing else. The beeps indicate a hardware failure. He doesn't seem to have complex requirements for a new system, but has asked for a laptop if we're going to find him a replacement. The new MacBooks offer only a 13" model for ~$1500. MacBook Pro offerings include the 15" which start at ~2500. These prices include tax, shipping, and Apple Care protection. As of this time he has no means of electronic communication.

I wanted to get your input on whether we should be purchasing a laptop for him and your thoughts on the model. Please advise when you have a moment.

Thanks,

WM

William Murphy

Systems Administrator – HBRK Associates

wmurphy@hbrkassociates.com

