If i were in jail, I think I'd miss my bed, my duvet, taking baths, walking on the beach, petting a dog, holding a fat baby, wearing my favorite jeans and softest sweatshirt, getting a good haircut, eating chocolate and smelling the ocean.

And that's just what I think I'd miss. I'm probably waaaay off from the reality of the situation. I'm so sorry you had to endure this nonsense.

Did you hear about the Prime Minister of Italy's recent dilly-dallying? Lucky for him, there aren't too many born again christians who hate rich people in Rome.
