the two more radical ideas would be to form two new currencies, one called the sharia . would be like a dollar but every dollar has printed on it in god we trust. the middle east could have its own sharia =C2 , for internal use amongst muslims. in addition a digital currency like bitcoin could be used to form a new sharia-compliant digital currency. very exciting. I've spoken to some of the founders of bitcoin who are very excited. =C2 I have not heard any dates from you.
