JE: I had lunch with [REDACTED] today. Her daughter lives in Dallas and she came to visit. So, she told me they had a mini reunion in Ft. Lauderdale last month – about 18 sea gaters attended. They had dinner together at a restaurant and were seated unfortunately at separate tables in a large dining room. All the sudden the waitress says she cannot serve anyone anymore drinks and the police come in and force all the sea gaters to leave the premises. No one knew what or why. Turns out, one of the sea gaters groped and fondled a waitress and she called the cops. Who was it? Hally Greenberg. Haha. So: he didn't come with his wife, he came with his GF/baby sitter, and he's still groping the waitress. Good story?
