Dear Rich,

<=iv>Thanks for your patience waiting for all the information back from the =actory.

I can confirm the following:

- * A divider will not be available for the U.S market due to homologation and certification issues.
- * Dark brown leather (designers 1st choice secondary leather) colour would be available through the Bentley Mulliner bespoke department at a cost of $11,312.90
- * Anthracite paint work is available

I have attached a specification summary along with the price guide with applicable options ticked. Please ask Mr Epstein to sign and return both to me when possible.
