Leon-there is an assumption in the firedrill that we wanted to create $400m= of short term liquidity (cash) in the trusts were both you and debra to d=e. Apparently jeffrey asked where this assumption came from. It came from = conversation between you, me, ada and alan in your office where you wante= a certain amount of cash generated for the kids and I suggested $400mm an= you said fine. Easy to change. Let me know if you have another # in mind.=Best, b
