He said this morning I have the amh (anti mullerian hormone) blood level o= a 22 year old so he is a little suspicious. I said suspicious of what and h= said that the meds were too low. This would generally point to the fact th=t I would do better in future rounds but of course he says he cannot guaran=ee it.

Then he said as someone else did the first ultrasound with the 16 follicles,=maybe they counted wrong.

(I don't know what is up with this hospital, looking at my chart just looks l=ke a mess, meds up and down and all over the place, a different doctor each=day and he can barely read what they wrote.) Anyway we will wait for some bloodwork this afternoon and then decide whethe= to retrieve the few I have in the am. It's a 10 minute process in twilight=sleep. I will also check with the hospital what part of the fees were for the retri=val but I think most went to the cost of the checks every day and meds I to=k.
