    it is a risk assesment.   If it were my child , I would do it. I do not play russian roulette. . the science is simple. not doing it carries giant risk, doing it carries some but not much. risk is a bad term. if i told you that a gun had one bullet in it , and the opportunity to hold 100. . please put it to jacobs head , and pull the trigger. . i think you would not. . . if i told you by not doing it , you risk him getting a stomach ache. ?

    My dear Jeffrey,
    You are the most intelligent and wisest person I know. I always think of you when i have a hard problem to solve . You surround your self with people who have brilliant mind and unique knowledge too. The difficult problem we are trying to solve is vaccination. we have not yet vaccinated Jacob... we don't know whether is more pharmaceutical business or real protection. And we know many people who does it and who don't. Too many opinions and theories regarding this topix. Have You ever heard something about vaccination? Or maybe you know someone who could gives us conscious, wise oppinion about it.
    Thank You so much!
    Lots of Love.
