Hi Lesley,

As you probably know, Fortunate =lessings Foundation [www.fortunateblessings.org <http://www.fortunateblessings.org/>] and Second Response [www.secondresponse.org] has significantly shifted the =focus of our efforts to domestic training and direct work with crisis =enters, hospital groups, community clinics and domestic abuse agencies. =e're clear that frontline staff who suffer from immense =secondary trauma can benefit greatly from our PLAYshops and Self =egulation Strategy Training. To that end, we've realigned our =riorities to deliver an eight week "Caring for the Caregiver♦=9D Program currently scheduled with a number of mental health providers =n the region. The reception after the initial, introductory workshops =as been exceptionally positive.

Of particular interest is a program in =ollaboration with City Kids [citykids.org <http://citykids.org/>], one of NYC's most active inner =ity youth agencies that has a stellar reputation. I am hopeful that =effrey would consider a donation again this year to help underwrite =hat particular project which involves training their staff in multiple =ocations. If he would match his previous gift of $25,000 which he =onated in 2014 — perhaps in conjunction with this year's =E2♦=9D Give Local" campaign -- it would be a tremendous =elp.

Can you =indly pass this request on to him, and if possible, please let him know =d welcome a call to discuss our current plans? Last year'= income of $140,000 barely covered our expenses, while this year'= projected expenses have tripled primarily because we have increased =rogramming by a multiple of six. Because we relied on disaster response =nd donors related gift-giving in the past, pre-emptive training =rograms pose a new challenge for fundraising. Our target income in 2016 =s $385,000 from all sources; as of today, we are only about 20% to our =oal. We now have submitted eighteen grant requests to various =oundations with a possible total of $160,000 should everyone approve =he full amount of each request.

Since we know we are not likely to bat =,000%, we're reaching out to past supporters.

Our websites have some =reat, new videos as does our Facebook page -

Thanks for your help =n this, Lesley, and hope you are well.

Warm regards,

William
