seems like offer of 36k for Bentley is about 15-20k to low =s i am sure they are leaving a cushion as it will probably take a while to sell

per rupert they are still waiting on final pricing on EWB=C2◆ may be best to use 36 & 135 = 171 and=try to push to 175-180 which will save us approx 15k in sales tax if you proceed with buying bentley

Morning Rich,

I have finally heard back from a trader who specialises in older Bentley's. We could offer $36,000 for the Arnage.

I am chasing Bentley U=A almost daily for the final pricing. They keep telling me it's imminent. I will of course forward it all onto you straight away. I have another 3 buyers in the same position as you with this car!!

Best,

Rupert

Hi Rich,

They are both not the easiest cars to set form values on I'm afraid. I have $135,000 for the Maybach. There seems to be a lot of new unsold inventory of those cars so a lot of dealers are wary of buying more already titled!

I am working with specialist buyers on the Arnage, that will take a little longer to get firm numbers. I will be in touch as soon as I hear more.

I have also chased our Bentley regional manager up for an update on pricing for the Mulsanne EWB.

I'll be in touch,

Rupert
