briefly, trivers and I share the same belief in the major role of deception. - a tool to protect or conquer=C2 free energy.. in essence if the predator can read =our algorithm, you are easy food . so deception is the first line of defense as it usually the cheapest. if a prey know= its own algorithm it is open to interrogation. so=nature hides it from the" self". Deceptive self conf=dence is also a winning game strategy. =Ants engage in the practise of mimetic. camouflage., false direction. etc. To some extent, so do most viruses. ie =A0 since HIV clearly masquerades itself as a unit of self. your question re is deception increasing, - yes as fast as=C2 methods of detection. note =I assume you are awake
