Would be an interesting to attempt to make an intellectually sti=ulating game where women outperform men.

Unless women are inherently inferior to the maximally talen=ed man at all tasks ;) I think there's some material which says women =ay be better endurance athletes (eg, long distance swimming) as an existen=ial proof a women might be better than the best man.

I'm reminded of the most-likely-not-Einstei= quote:

"Everybody is a genius. But if you judge a f=sh by its ability to climb a tree, it will live its whole life believ=ng that it is stupid."

In any case, it's a fun experiment. If you fail to =ake such a game, you provide evidence of universal inferiority which would=inform you (society) to not invest in gender diversity as much, if you mak= one then you'd probably learn more about how to get value out of fema=e employees.
