Dear Jeffrey,

Sorry I've been such = poor correspondent: I'm in the middle of a rather acrimonio=s divorce, which has taken up a lot of time and energy that woul= have been much better spent on more productive things, e.g., ta=king with you.

Do you have time to talk one of th=se days? I've been looking at the membrane comp=tting literature -- very interesting. It fits in clo=ely with the work on chemical computation that I've been doing (similar ideas but without the membranes). Also as part of=/div> writing my book I'm working on ideas of deception and decodi=g at the molecular scale -- also a key to origins of life.
=div>

Yours,
Seth
