I understand from Richard Kahn that you informed Max Kohlenberg about the financial information that we provided to you yesterday, and that Kohlenberg in turn informed my children about this. Plainly, this is quite improper. Kohlenberg is not my lawyer and has no right to know anything that I do not personally provide him, and this information is certainly not the affair of my children or anyone else. This is a serious breach of confidentiality. Could you please inform me -- and me alone! -- of the amount of taxes that are due.
