[REDACTED] Hope you are great ! Initially I think the best way to think about this is in Two Phases - Phase 1. CORE: 55th Street will showcase the my30 platform : My30 provides equipment, certification for trainers and CORE: provides fitness space, occupancy related services, 1600 high profile membership community, marketing PR, strategic awareness etc ,,,,Simple Revenue Share for Phase 1 : 1/3rd my30 and 1/3rd CORE: and 1/3rd Certified Trainer ( more than happy to discuss my30 managing the entire fitness platform as an alternative to Zoomtion ) .....Phase 1 will give us an opportunity to refine and upgrade all elements of the technology/equipment/accessories/data output/branding/design/business model etc and allow us the time to have strategic discussions about whether CORE: is involved in the U.S. expansion plan ....At this point I believe we can add value - investors/expertise/experience and the right network to accomplish the "Bigger Than Soul Cycle Dream" ..... Snowy Saturday in NYC today.....Jennie
