Subject: p.s. Huffington on transexuality

A two-line statement that psychiatrists no longer classify transsexuality as,

"Gender-identity disorder"

But instead, as,

"Gender dysphoria"

Not that you are inherently disordered but just feel bad about it

Have you heard how a clitoris is created for you if you wish to go all way, give up your dick and take on a false pum-pum? Your dick is bent around backwards, stripped of much of its tissue, only the glans preserved to be the clitoris—exactly what they are in homology during human development and highly enervated

i am now curious how the problem of urination is addressed

So it is the ability of the molecular biologists to intervene quite precisely and logically to develop alternative phenotypes based on genetic homologies that allows these new creatures and this new sexual world hope you are fine wherever you are
