Hi Jeffrey

How are you? :)

I met [REDACTED] last night and we somehow worked out that we both knew you! He's staying with a friend of mine, he is such a nice person and so interesting.

Anyway I just wanted to say hi and see how you are - I'm doing very well, I have broken up with my boyfriend from NY and am now in the process of buying my first property - I just had financing approved and am really excited about it! My business is going very well, I am vegan now and do yoga everyday = I'm feeling better than ever!

I hope things are going really well for you, and also hope to see you sometime soon as it's been so long, I'll let you know when I'm in NY again.

Hope you are having a great weekend

=div>Lots of love
