Jeffrey,

Now I have most part of my life here in NY than in Moscow. I feel I belong here much more now. I feel better in ny, more safe and secure. These travels from here to Moscow and back, never knowing for how long I stay make me stressed. =/p>

I felt sad about this situation. I had no intention to create this tension.

I understand that you had high expectations about me and I do my best to meet it.

I don't want you to get disappointed about me.

I have decided about the school, and exams. I hope you agree about this career path.
