Hello Daphne,

I am running into a bit of a delay in getting confirmation from Kline that everything is in order to move the boat over to Sea Star's terminal. Nothing to worry about. I will keep requesting. I was informed that Sea Star is still congested and is still working to clear out the port. It may take a little longer to get the boat there than originally planned. I spoke with Sea Star yesterday and as of right now the first sailing that we will be able to get the boat on is 11/17. This should put the boat getting into St. Thomas on 11/24. Please let me know if you have any questions.
