I made contact with a=manager from TOTAL Aviation today.

They are=willing to do business with you. A few things they would require is:=C2 *Type of Aircraft(jet) *Tail number
*W=ether you have "under or over wing fueling.
The fuel they u=e to fuel their crafts with is "Jet A aviation fuel", so if it	s what you fuel yours with, that's good.

He did mention that for fueling private aircrafts they'd need=a "spot sail" or pay as you're serviced with a "check&q=ot;, in lieu of becoming an "established" customer They require =hat they know when you would be arriving on Stt. and when your leaving for=fueling purposes.

He cautioned me that they=would be only responsible for the fueling of your jet if you decided to do=business with them. All the other customs, VIP services as he put it, woul= be solely your responsibility. Reason behind that is in the past they hav= fueled private crafts and the catering service(St.thomas jet center, etc)=would discontinue those services or give the client a tough time due to th= fact that they were being fueled else where.

I didn't let him know who the potential client was, but he gave me h=s number in the event you do decide to do business with them.
