Good evening Dr. Krauss:

The allegations =utlined in my email to you have all been reported directly to the =niversity.

The transcription of =our discussion with Naimah Saadiq in February is not yet available, but =hould be by the end of this week or early next week.

Good morning Erin. Thank you for =our note. I have a few questions.

I still haven't received the =transcript of my last meeting with Naimah, which she indicated in her =mail of Feb 20th she would provide me at the time. Has this been =ent?

In order to better prepare for our =eeting, I have a few questions about what you wrote. I am =surprised by the list you provided, and confused by the statement that =he allegations 'known at this time include but are not limited to' just before you provide a list of general allegations. Does this mean =hat these are the ones you are considering? Also, do these =omprise complaints made to the University or also allegations that =ppeared online? If a combination, could you describe which is which? =nbsp;What is the policy regarding treating online allegations, tweets =tc? Is there a policy regarding the University's =urisdiction in responding to such and what my rights are with regard to =uch?

Thanks a lot for your attention in this =atter.

Good morning Dr. Krauss:

The purpose of this email =s to provide you with notification of the specific allegations that =ave been raised against you during OEI's investigation. The =llegations that are known at this time include but are not limited =o:

1. Unwelcome comments of a sexual nature
2. Gender based comments
3. Conduct of a sexual nature including, but not limited to, =ouching
4. Unprofessional interactions with students, employees of the =rigins Project, and attendees at various conferences
5. Failure to report after an employee expressed concern about a =onor

We will discuss these =llegations during your interview on April 10, 2018.

Regards,
