
From: Mark L. Epstein <[REDACTED]>
Sent: Wednesday, September 23, 2015 12:34 PM
To: 'jeffrey E.'
Subject: pope

You're probably smart enough to get out of town when the pope is here, but if you're in NYC, he will be staying around the corner from you. You should invite him over for an egg cream and exchange stories.

I'm going to London on the 1st for a couple of days, and then to Italy for a few more. I haven't been in London since I visited you there, with Paula and Seymour, in 1985. I'm expecting to still not like the place. I'm having dinner with Aldine while there. (no, I'm still not going to fuck her).