Hi Jeffrey,

It was a great pleasure talking w/ you today - the time flew by.
I hope I wasn't too much of a blow-hard. Noam is far smarter<=r> than I could ever hope to be.
There's lots more to talk about, with respect to language.
If you're interested in algebraic methods - as i mentioned
we have a workshop in October on this and Noam's new theory.

Anyway - I also enjoyed the conversation about twitter & the market, in learning. Here's that article about the sentiment analysis=company

I mentioned. So - your take was that they can't really do wha= they say they can do, despite claims to the contrary. I'm still surprised that people buy into this kind of thing. I'm no exp=rt-but you are!
The president just sounds like the usual sort of thing: make some bucks, then sell and get out...(the words "serial entrepreneur" always raise red flags for me...)

best wishes
bob
