Employees ??

In the fall of 2001, Enron stock was in free fall. The employees of Enron were=terrified that they were going to lose their life savings: for many, 90+ pe=cent of their 401ks and pensions were invested in Enron, as encouraged by t=e senior executives of the company. Ken Lay called all of the employee=s together and reassured them, telling them that the fundamentals of the co=pany were strong. He then imposed a lock-out so that none of the employees could sell Enron stock. What he told the employees were flat lies, but almost all of them trusted him. You know the end of the story...=.

The point is that the employees probably should have known earlier that the company was in serious trouble, but they trusted. Should they have done more to protect themselves? Yes. But he intentionally deprived them of the right to make their own choices based on complete and truthful information. That was wrong. That was=criminal.

This is basically a version of the summation I gave to the jury in 2006. I did not expect to be making it again in 2015.

Good luck with the mediation today. &nb=;

I don't think that gave him the right to lie and take advantage of my stupidity.
