Dear Jeffrey,

I'm very, very sorry that =t has come off that way. This is certainly not my intention at =ll.

In fact I have been looking forward =o it. I've committed my life to our scientific endeavors, and =m eager to describe some of it to you given that Pam had said =ou had interests in some of =hese areas.

I sincerely hope that =ou could reconsider this, and perhaps we can find a time that =uits you. My thought was next week, only because I'm in the =K in meetings that are mostly beyond my control this week. I =ould hate to try to set it up again, and not be able to make =t. I'm here with a conference I'm running, and meeting my =rogram officers from the US Army in London, who set my =chedule. However, I'm home next week, and can change almost =nything around to suit.

Again, sorry =f it has come off that way, but with timezones, meetings and =ravel it hasn't worked out. I've been in California 10 days since =ate in May, so it has been very =ough.

If you are able to reconsider then =lease let me know what would work for =ou.

Sincerely,

Nathan</=iv>

Dear =effrey,

Very sorry we haven't been able to =onnect. I'll be back in California next week - all =eek, and can move things around to make a call =ork.

Nathan
