Hi Jeffery,

I wan= to give you a quick update regarding my studying.

I'm halfway thru the javascript bootcamp program. First half of=the program was extremely challenging as I had to learn a lot of informati=n in a very short period.

Right now we in a proje=t development phase where I'm working in a team and building minimal v=able product using full stack (MEAN stack in particular). It is going well=but I feel that I'm not as good as some guys who had previous CS exper=ence. I need to practice more to gain confidence.

After the program I'm planning to continue to work on my own pro=ects and look for some freelance work.
