Hi Jeffery,

I want to give you=a quick update regarding my studying.

I'm halfway thru the javascript bootcamp program. First half of the program =as extremely challenging as I had to learn a lot of information in a very =hort period.

Right now we in a project developmen= phase where I'm working in a team and building minimal viable product=using full stack (MEAN stack in particular). It is going well but I feel t=at I'm not as good as some guys who had previous CS experience. I need=to practice more to gain confidence.

After =he program I'm planning to continue to work on my own projects and loo= for some freelance work.
