Barge was delivered early this am. Went back with the check.

They said they sent you a letter informing you of the new timeline for the downtime if the barge. My understanding is that a delay of getting the new cylinders is going to add 2 weeks to the schedule. A one month or so total.

If this is your understanding please let me know.

When the inspection process actually begins there will be more to discuss I'm sure.

Please let me know when we can talk and review the goals and needs and anything else you want to cover.
