Barge was delivered early this am. Went back with the check.

They said they sent you a letter informing you of the new time=ine for the downtime if the barge.

My understanding is that a delay of getting the new cylinders is goi=g to add 2 weeks to the schedule. A one month or so total.

If this is your understanding please let me know.

When the inspection process actually begins there will be more to di=cuss I'm sure.

Please let me know when we can talk and review the goals and n=eds and anything else you want to cover.
