
From: jeffrey E. <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Sent: Monday, March 30, 2015 11:59 AM
To: Eduardo Guendelman
Subject: Re: comments from Thom

I see little reason to build a building. when =he people are the key , its not a lab. I nee= to see the work proposal. . . gravity is not enough. as perimet=r has been going for years with little to show for it.

On Mon, Mar 30, 2015 at 7:5= AM, Eduardo Guendelman [REDACTED] wrote:

Hi Jeffrey,
I got these comments from Thom, which sound reasonable

.....=.....
I looked in some detail at the IAS in Princeton, and the Perimeter Institute in Canada, to try to get some ideas. The thing that struck<=r> me most about both of them is their size ... in comparison to CECS, for example, they are much larger than we should expect to be able to set up in the Bahamas, at the beginning. So, CECS is a better example

But of course, we should be able to attract many short and long term visitors to Long Island from both IAS and Perimeter, especially from the latter in the middle of winter.

.....=.....
Hope we can talk today, I will be able to introduce to you my Chilean cosmo=ogy colleagues if we talk during the time they will be at the University h=re!

Best,
Eduardo

--

=lease note

The information contained in this communication is c=nfidential, may be attorney-client privileged, may constitute inside in=ormation, and is intended only for the use of the addressee. It is the =roperty of JEE Unauthorized use, disclosure or copying of this co=munication or any part thereof is strictly prohibited and may be unlawf=l. If you have received this communication in error, please notify us i=mediately by return e-mail or by e-mail to jeevacation@gmail.com <mailto:jeevacatio=@gmail.com> , and destroy th=s communication and all copies thereof, including all attachments. copy=ight -all rights reserved