Hello Jeffrey,
Hi Andrew,

I travelled to Davos WEF this year to find out the procedure of becoming a Young Global Shaper, the status in the frames of the WEF.

I was fortunate to meet a young American finance talent.

Andrew, 26 years old, is now based in London, in Washington next 3 days. He created his first hedge fund as a teenager, then sold it and then continued in finance, technologies industries, created companies. He studied at Harvard where Jeffrey teaches/taught Maths.

Very brilliant young man.

Jeffrey is a good friend from 2011 who went with me through the laborious American Law Schools application process. He is a philanthropist, financier and invests in young talents And their companies.

Hopefully, both of you could be interested to meet soon and see what are the mutual opportunities.

Kind regards,
