I am at JFK about to board a flight to London for the BAFTA's. I will be at=The Chiltern Firehouse Wed., Feb. 4th-Monday, Feb. 9th, when I go to Berlin for that film festival. Will be back in NYC Thursday, Feb. 12th.

I have not heard back from anyone...so assume you all have this under contr=l. Any update would be appreciated. Calm and busy working. Hope you all=are well.

xoxo Peggy

Martin:

Thanks so much. This scenario gets sadder every day. My brother obviously=is broke.

I will tell you why I find his life story so pathetic.

In 1905 my paternal grandfather came to America to escape persecution. He =orked 24/7 his entire life and died a proud rich man. His two sons devoted=to him and the American dream worked 24/7 and accomplished more beyond by =grandfather's wildest dreams. My father and uncle, between them, educated =ive children that carry the Siegal name. I am the fourth and Gary the fifth=.

The 70th anniversary of the liberation of the concentration camps were inte=national headlines this week as anti-semitism is on the rise.

One generation died in Europe and two generations spent every day of their =ives proving they were smarter creating a more dignified life for the next=generation in this country.

My brother pisses on that responsibility to accomplish. This is what makes =e sick and sad at the same time.

Thank you for understanding the emotion I suppress to deal with the facts. = Peggy
