Hi Gregory,

We have to separate ALL stock items since the quote =as "one bulk trip to NY for all apartments, which was going to happen =ogether with the furniture from our factory in February. Now we will forward all =tems to be marked separately one by one since they will go to different =parts, also we have the additional items you ordered last month and =eeded to be included.

Unfortunately we have to wait for the freight company =o send us the quote with any possible =djustments.

Regarding the PB, is in =chedule for Thursday, 18th.

We appreciate your patience, at this time of the year all clients want their products, so it is very hectic.

Regards,

Eduardo

Gregory,

We have to separate ALL stock items since the quote was "one bulk trip to NY for all apartments, which was going to happen together with the furniture from our factory in February, now we will forward all items to be marked separately one by one since they will go to different apartments, also we have the additional items you ordered last month and needed to be included.

Unfortunately we have to wait for the freight company to send us the quote with any possible adjustments.

We will give you the date for PB today.

I appreciate your patience, at this time of the year all clients want their products, so it is very hectic. :p>

Eduardo,

I don't understand why this is taking so long to extract a delivery date out of your company.

This merchandise is in stock and I was told you needed to get the items out of your warehouse several weeks ago, so why the delay?

On December 5 I had a detailed telephone conversation with Rosana in which she promised me profusely that = would have a delivery date within a day or two of the wire transfer which happened last =onday.

Now we are starting another week without a schedule. This is unacceptable.

Both=my client and Rich are at wits end repeatedly looking for an answer as =m I and we are =ll losing our patience.

I want a definitive answer from someone at =RTEFACTO =ODAY!

Please advise ASAP.

Gregory

Good morning =regory,

I was out of the =tore.

Rosana got a great quote for the whole cargo, =hite glove to a central warehouse in NY and different shipments to the =partments, as she explained to you over the phone. I am sure she will =e able to revise the freight information, since the client decided to =plit the cargo in 2 shipments from =iami.

Please have in mind the new request to separate =he freight was recent and there are a lot of items to consider, once =he freight company answers Rosana's request, we will send it to you =SAP.

Thank you,

Eduardo

Rosana,

I am just back from my trip and I still do not have = delivery schedule for the furniture for NYC and Palm =each that you promised =e before I left over a week ago.

My client is very anxious and impatient to have a =chedule by monday at the latest.

Please make sure this happen as soon as =ossible.

Thanks,

Gregory
