Hi [REDACTED],

Our team is loading this onto Freebase.com today - [REDACTED], any progress on Wiki you can share?

We are also forcing Google along to index our Forbes post and all referencing links again today. If you have any new locations that have linked to the Forbes post please share so I can expedite the Google discovery process. Business Insider is on this list today since the image has been removed.

Once the new Wiki image is up I'll do the same there.

We should see a lot of progress in the next few weeks so long as we stay on top of these activities. The BI removal and Forbes posts were huge wins. We should also get pricing back by end of week on the other outlets we have discussed. Huffington is still on hold and we may need a different topic...

Look forward to chatting more later.
