The www conference was a brilliant collection of over 30 pairings of the brightest minds, all engaged in improvised conversation; intellectual jazz. (Click This footage is greatly enhanced by material provided by these brilliant minds, that you will not be able to find anywhere else. Great amounts of materials and compiled links such as new videos of Pritzker Prize winning architect Frank Gehry and and edited drafts from Pulitzer Prize winning poet CK Williams, will all provide candid components that support the compelling nature of the conference.

In the final quarter of this year 2013, even more extraordinary material will be added to enhance the depth of unique material only accessible through the initial purchase of this App. As the year has progressed we are pleased to say that more speaker contributions have been made that will be included in a major update. This update is easily installed and free to anyone once they have already purchased the app.
