See follow up note below from Rich Joslin.

I went to lunch with Lisa Cappiello today in order to spend a bit more time=with her and get to know her better. Very, very capable-in many ways would=be a great fit. I know the former CIO from Caxton-they worked together for=20 years there - checking on her with him. I still think Rich is the smart=r of the two. I am having breakfast with him tomorrow, will let you know m= thoughts.

Eileen/Ada:

I wanted to extend my gratitude for the opportunity to meet with you and the continued dialogue regarding Black Family Partners. It is an extraordinary opportunity and I posit that my "mad scientist" passion for taxes and staying abreast of tax developments and latest thinking, coupled with a solution-based, flexible mindset and a wide range of experience and familiarity with HNW/financial products/services can provide a most fertile ground for creative and effective tax planning.

And of course I am very detail-oriented and perfectly content to be in the trenches and weeds with team members and hold paramount the interests of the firm/family.

Given the interest in art/collectibles and the mention of Sec 1031 (tax deferral), I have been thinking about tax recognition vs realization and sec 1(h)(5)(B) and how a vehicle might be used to convert 28% collectible gain into a 20% entity sale gain. I am also looking into how collectibles might fall outside of PFIC and foreign personal holding company rules. While deferral may be optimal, ensuring the lowest tax rate is a near second. And I am keeping in mind how this planning might be adversely affected by sales tax transfer rules. A work in progress..

Last, there is a Bloomberg/BNA Sept Advisory Board meeting with agenda of EGT (see below) and was looking to see if you might be interested in joining me. The third item looks relevant. Usually there are articles for publication and speakers present in tandem albeit papers have not yet been released. Gratis.

I hope the new office set up is going smoothly. Sounds exciting.

.Would love to help..

Best
