Here is a quick sketch of the Sunken Tennis Court out on the south ridge of LSJ. I have also attached an existing site photo of the same view looking north.=A0 This tennis court location is on axis with the Main House and also aligns w=th the small island out toward St. Croix to the south. The court would be sunken down at least 10' below existing grade and would have terraced stone walls. I have also shown a small ope= pavilion for shade.

I will send a site plan showing exactly where it is =n another email attachment. I look forward to seeing you to review everything.
