Lunch was=a success- I have begun the formal partnership process with CDM and now CH2MHill. Both co's were ready to sign on the dotted line im=ediately- they were drooling over the hope of working with us.

I forget to mention it today but "the ring" is apparently bei=g made and will be done in a month!!!! Poor [REDACTED] is so frazzled about hi= work situation that he forwarded me an email I was not supposed to see. K=owing him, he'll probably sit on it until December.

I've been looking at suits online and agree that Jcrew=may have the best selection...

The latest update is that I've created a position for [REDACTED] and it has=been approved by our upper management. It'll put him in front of every=major player in the waste and water world...I'm just waiting for his d=cision on whether he's going to take it (I only offered it to him toda=). The only downside is that it's a 6 mo. position and it's unpaid=so he's grappling with what that means for now. He recognizes that the=upside is huge and I'm fairly confident he'll take it, I just thin= he just needs a few days to digest.

I'm on my way down to Houston for the week where I'll be meeting wi=h Waste Management and Allied/Republic about a few composting projects we&=39;re working with them to develop. I have my pearls and new suit in check=for their trial run. I'll let you know how they are received.
