
From: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Sent: Saturday, May 2, 2009 6:05 PM
To: Silvina Royston
Subject: Re: Kitchen Schemes

open plan with rectangles i rarely like round anything

On Fri, May 1, 2009 at 5:59 PM, Silvina Royston <[REDACTED]<mailto:[REDACTED]>> >; wrote:

Jeffrey,

Here are various Kitchen Plan options for your review and comment:

Plan A: I spoke to Brice and saw some photos of the Zorro Kitchen. Brice says it works well and that you like the layout. This plan is based =n the same concept.

- * Separate Butler's Pan=ry
- * Separate Pantry
- * One open space for Kit=hen and Dining Table.

Plan B:

- * Separate area for Butle='s Pantry and Pantry Combined
- * Open Kitchen and Dinin= Area
- * Dining area larger bec=use no cabinets at this end
- * Two entry doors into D=ning area

Plan C:

- * One large open space fo= Kitchen/Dining area
- * Butler's Pantry and =antry Storage within
- * This layout is the sam= length as the Great Room, but it is not as wide.

Plan D:

- * Same one large open spa=e for Kitchen and Dining

- * Instead of typical Ki=chen islands with cabinetry below, replace with large round butcher block =r stone top Islands. I
- * I will forward photo o= round islands that I have in mind.
- * From my experience, it=is easier to circulate around round tables and the room appears more spaci=us.

These are just a starting point as we can mix and match after reviewing you= comments along with Brice's and Karen's.

Let me know what you think.

Regards,

Silvina