nothing on axis that is anything but vegetation.

Here is a quick sketch of a proposed Boat Dock Entry area. The existing conditions photo is also attached. The small stone pavilion on axis with the boat dock functions as a welcoming focal element and a shelter. This would not be the guard station. Also the natural stone paving that is on the private drive would be extended out into this arrival area.

I have also shown some simple shore plant landscaping beneath the existing coconut palms where the boat dock engages with the shore line.

Let me know what you think.
