Doctor said endoscopic brow lift is a much better option.

It was inter=sting, I think he is right. He showed me how he would do it. No scar. He w=uld use a little device called endotyne 3.0 to hold it in place which then=disolves in 6months. He showed me pictures of this compared to cutting the=eyelid which leaves a little mark. He drew on my eye to show me where he w=uld cut if that's what I wanted and then he pulled the corner up on th= side to show me what the lift would look like..

He also laughed at the popping sound in my nose, asked me who did that to=me and if I wanted him to fix it.
