I&=39;m the best out there and will save you tons of money and time The generators are still n=t working because no one has been able to fix and I know electricians have=been there and I'm sure not for free These generator guys are the best and yes they are=expensive but will fix the problem (by the way they still not have been re=eased) The=architect is not my architect and I stopped him working on the spa after I=got that last plan because you said we were meeting another designer =/div>

Spa pricing will be much che=per with me involved than some "contractor estimate"

Call me when you have a moment jeffrey,

frankly , I have yet to see any value added to Russel= involvement.
we have generator guys coming at a super high rate= drawings done by want to be architect and no value added to dat=.. maybe we should just rehire when we are building. s= far this makes little sense..
